Tun more one sees of this beautiful weather and the things it unfolds and brings torth the more one is delighted and charmed. Even the swallows have come. This is unprecedented. May, usually, is their oncoming time. Certainly they never before came in March. As soon think of cucumbers coming this month. Birds are twittering everywhere. A great hand some namey robin jumped down into e garden where we stood yesterday as bold as any bird ever dared to be. Over on the cornices and about the roof and seves of the State House, above the Governor, above all the archieves, above Old Finance and old everybody, there sits Mr. and Mrs. Linnot and Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow and chirrup and chatter and pipe their little asuge all day long. We noticed the root of a bay window of the Ormaby House yesterday quite alive with birds who seemed to be doing some very vigorous courting there. The like was never known before, in this first spring month, here in the sage brush. Let us hope that no killing frost will come to beehill all this merrymaking of the birds and this out-venturing of the leaves and the fruit-bude. this month. Birds are twittering every-

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday the jury brought in a verdict in favor of Sullivan (vs. the Havage Mining Co.) for $5,000. (The plaintiff sued for $150,000.) Also a jury brought in a verdict for Med jury brought in a verdict for Med Sweeney, and against an incurance company, for $75. (He sued for $500.) A jury was empaneled to try the case of Sine. Barnes et al. vs. the California Mining Co. This ease will, it is more than likely, compy the Court until the middle of next week. Business in this Court is conducted with a good deal of promptitude, and not any time is lost. Yesterday, while the jury in this last named case was being empaneled, the Sweeney jury came in and rendered their verdict.

visited Mr. C. B. McClellan's studio yesterday. As has been previously stated in the APPEAL, Mr. McClellan has on engaged for several months past, at odd times, painting a series of pic tures illustrative of the accusey, architecture and inside and surrounding characteristics of Virginia City, Gold Hill and peighboring places. These are large pictures and are something panoramic in their manner of treatment. One of those at present on the casel is well-nigh finished. It represents some of the parts adjacent to Gold Hill. The point of view is Bullion Ravine where it overlooks the Bullion and Imperial works, Fort Homestead, the far vista of works, Fort Homestead, the far vista of the mountain ranges lying south and south west of the Carson Velley, &c. On the left are the water-works with the jet of fountain lesping up from the surface of the reservoir and en the right are the side hill above the Belcher and the mountains beyond Genoa. The tone of this picture is admirable in its truthfulness, and the peculiar tints of aky, hill side, houses, dump piles and sage brush are preserved with rare success. The other picture is taken from a point on are preserved with rare success. The other picture is taken from a point on Virginia Hill, looking right into and through the heart of Virginia City. Is the middle-distance and distance are the Sugar Loaf, the dim stretch of the Carson Valley, the region where Fort Churchill stood, the Twenty-one Mile Desert, the Como range and the blue into of mountains toward Reese River. The Ophir works lie on the left and the Episcopal church on the right of the picture. This painting is only inst laid. picture. This painting is only just laid in, in dead color; but it bids fair to be the most picturesque and and satisfactory in its effects of any of the series. These very excellent pictures are being painted to the order of the Washoe Club. We can conceive of nothing more appro-priate for the walls of that pleasant resort than these faithful representations of the stupendous scenery by which the Club Rooms are surrounded. Mr. McClellan is developing a very high order of talent as a landscape painter.

Boys with owns shooting promiseuous bullets in all directions, regardless of their destination or detention, whether in any man's body or head or otherwhere, also somewhat at the peril of any or all female life or limb, likewise undangering in more or less uncomfortable degree in this gunpowderish world, any children of either sex who might or should be wonding schoolwards or engaged in enterprises playful or truant like,—these errant projectiles we say in this public journalistic manner and for the edification of parents, guardians and the edification of parents, guardians and the otherwise not sufficiently aroused guardians of the peace, are becoming an occurrence not at all to be further er-eouraged, but, rather to be frowned down and put a stop to before the Cer-oner is called upon to sit in the official fashion of his incumbency. Indeed, this so-called irregular Target Practice is not to be tolerated, not alone because of the incoming game laws' lawfulness, but, also as applying to the preservation. but, also as applying to the preservation of the Game without whose immunity from vagabond gun-balls and pistol builtes taxes would no longer be paid, or what is of more importance, no new-capers would be adjusted. papers would be edited. (This is a trifle Carlyle-esque, but it refers to a dangerous practice, a-field, of the younkers whose misguided parents have supplied them with shot guns and ammu-

THE RAILROADERS' BALL was an undoubted success. The attendance was large and enthusiastic and the festivities were austained until the gray streaks came in the eastern sky. Church & Jones did the music. Of course it was good. The Arlington furnished the supper. Of course that was good, too.

New York, March 23—A Tribune's Washington special says the board of Army Engineers ordered to examine the Washington Monument foundation, made a careful examination yesterday and ordered further work to cease. All made a careful examination yesterday and ordered further work to cease. All agreed that the menument could not be completed according to the original design, because the foundation will not admit of more weight. The foundation, originally eight feet below the surface, has settled 8% inches. The settling began while the monument was in process of building, and in settling the shaft leaned north. The builders still built according to the plumb line and the whole pile is crooked. This confirms the report of Supervising Architect Mullett. chirect Mullett.
